TO THE MEMBERS OF THE OKLAHOMA LEGISLATURE:

The enclosed Annual Report and Statistical Appendix of the Oklahoma Judiciary is respectfully submitted to you. We are pleased and proud to report that the judicial branch of state government is preserving Oklahoma's tradition of providing quality justice to the citizens of our state.

As a part of our efforts to foster and preserve that tradition, we continue to explore and expand the role of computers in the courts. Computerization of functions in the court clerk's offices has now been or soon will be extended to five of our district courts having the largest caseloads. That project, utilizing the mainframe computer located in our office, continues to provide significant savings in time and money to the courts and litigants.

Throughout this year, the Supreme Court worked diligently toward its goal of resolving all appeals within three hundred days of filing. The implementation of the computerized tracking of issues raised on appeal will greatly assist the Court in achieving this goal. The resolution of cases by the Court of Appeals utilizing summary disposition and memorandum opinions has also proved effective in reaching this goal. Despite these efforts, the three hundred day goal will be unattainable without an increase in the number of support personnel in the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals.

The electronic jury selection plan, in place statewide with the aid of this office, is also achieving substantial savings in the operation of our trial courts. The use of personal computers in the management of traffic and misdemeanor dockets, although in the developmental stage, seems similarly promising.

In June, the Supreme Court sponsored the Sovereignty Symposium. This conference, which was attended by 450 persons from throughout the nation, focused on issues and developments in federal, state and tribal law and the interrelationships of those governments.

I want to express my appreciation to Chief Justice John B. Doolin and the Justices of the Oklahoma Supreme Court for their support and assistance to our office during this time of transition. Similarly, the support and aid of the members of the Forty-first Session of the Oklahoma Legislature is gratefully acknowledged. The production of this report and the proud accomplishments it depicts would have been impossible without the cooperation of this state's dedicated judges and court clerks, and the staff of the Administrative Office of the Courts.

Respectfully submitted,

Howard W Conyers

THE JUDICIARY

Court Structure

The third branch of the government, the judiciary, is constitutionally vested with powers which are separate and distinct from the executive and legislative branches of government. The current court structure was adopted in 1969 by constitutional amendment. Jurisdiction of the courts in Oklahoma is divided into four categories:

1) Courts of last resort;
2) Intermediate appellate courts;
3) Courts of general jurisdiction; and
4) Courts of limited jurisdiction.

Courts of Last Resort

Two courts fall into this category — the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals. In addition to having jurisdiction over all civil appeals, the Supreme Court has general superintending control over all inferior courts, agencies, commissions and boards created by law, with the exception of the Court on the Judiciary and the Senate sitting as a Court of Impeachment. The Court of Criminal Appeals has appellate jurisdiction in criminal cases.

Intermediate Appellate Courts

The Court of Appeals, created in 1970, is Oklahoma's intermediate appellate court. Jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals is prescribed by the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals hears and decides cases assigned to it by the Supreme Court.

Courts of General Jurisidiction

In Oklahoma, the court of general jurisdiction is the District Court. The state is divided into twenty-six district court judicial districts. The District Court has unlimited original jurisdiction over all justiciable matters.

Courts of Limited Jurisdiction

Oklahoma has four courts of limited jurisdiction. The Court on the Judiciary, which was created by constitutional amendment in 1966, consists of a trial division and an appellate division. The Court on the Judiciary has jurisdiction over all proceedings filed against judges which seek their removal from office. The Workers' Compensation Court hears and determines claims brought by employees against employers for work-related injuries. The Court of Tax Review is comprised of three judges designated by the Governor to consider protests against tax levies. Municipal Courts hear prosecutions involving violations of municipal ordinances. Cities with populations in excess of 200,000 have municipal criminal courts of record. All other municipalities have courts not of record.

To assist the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in exercising the court's administrative authority over all inferior courts, the Constitution authorizes an Administrative Director of Courts and staff. The Administrative Office of the Courts works closely with the Supreme Court, and particularly the Chief Justice, in administering the judicial branch of government for the State of Oklahoma.

Supreme Court

The Oklahoma Constitution grants to the Supreme Court appellate jurisdiction in all civil cases, both at law and in equity. In the event a conflict arises between the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals regarding jurisdiction, the Supreme Court is constitutionally empowered to determine which court has jurisdiction. The Supreme Court has a general superintending control and administrative authority over all inferior courts, agencies, commissions and boards except for the Court on the Judiciary and the Senate sitting as a Court of Impeachment. Additionally, the Supreme Court has the exclusive power and authority to discipline attorneys and pass upon the qualifications of all applicants for admission to the practice of law within the state.

The nine justices, one from each of the Supreme Court judicial districts, serve six-year terms. At the general election preceding the expiration of a term of office, a justice who desires to remain in office must file a declaration of candidacy to succeed himself. If a majority of those voters casting ballots in a nonpartisan election vote in favor of retention, the justice will serve another term.

A vacancy occurring on the Supreme Court during a term of office is filled by gubernatorial appointment. The Judicial Nominating Commission provides the Governor with a list of nominees which have been selected by the Commission from applicants living in the appropriate Supreme Court judicial district. To be eligible to serve as a justice on the Supreme Court, an applicant must be at least thirty years of age, a qualified elector in his or her particular Supreme Court district for at least one year, and a licensed practicing attorney or judge for five years.

The Supreme Court selects a Chief Justice and Vice-Chief Justice who serve two-year terms. The Court also appoints a Clerk of the Supreme Court and an Administrative Director of the Courts, both of whom serve at the pleasure of the Supreme Court. James W. Patterson, as Clerk of the Supreme Court, is responsible for maintaining all records of the Supreme Court. The Administrative Director, Howard W. Conyers, assists the Chief Justice in his various administrative duties.

Court of Criminal Appeals

Jurisdiction of all criminal appeals rests exclusively with the Court of Criminal Appeals. The three-member court decides appeals from the District Courts and the Municipal Criminal Courts of Record.

The judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals are selected in the same manner as Supreme Court justices from three Court of Criminal Appeals judicial districts. They serve six-year terms and are subject to a non-partisan statewide vote on their retention.

Effective the second Monday in January, 1989, two additional judges will be added to this court to fill two newly-created Court of Criminal Appeals judicial districts. Any vacancies on the court are filled by gubernatorial appointments with the assistance of the Judicial Nominating Commission.

The Clerk of the Supreme Court serves as the ex officio Clerk of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Court of Appeals

The caseload of the Court of Appeals is comprised solely of civil appeals assigned by the Supreme Court. Final decisions of the Court of Appeals are not directly appealable to the Supreme Court; however, if a majority of the justices agree that certiorari should be granted, the decision by the Court of Appeals may be reviewed by the Supreme Court.

Each of the 12 judges of the Court of Appeals is assigned by the Supreme Court to one of four permanent divisions, two of which sit in Tulsa County and two in Oklahoma County. Two judges serve from each of the six congressional districts in the state. In a nonpartisan election, if a majority of those who cast ballots vote in favor of retention, the judge will serve another term.

If a vacancy occurs on the Court of Appeals prior to the expiration of a term, the Governor appoints a successor from the congressional district in which the vacancy exists. In making the appointment, the Governor relies upon the recommendation of the Judicial Nominating Commission.

The Clerk of the Supreme Court also serves as Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

District Courts

The District Courts have unlimited original jurisdiction in all justiciable matters and the power of review in administrative actions designated by statute. In addition, appeals from Municipal Courts not of record are heard by the District Courts as trials de novo.

Oklahoma is divided into 26 District Court judicial districts. Each such district consists of an entire county or several contiguous counties. For the purposes of administration, the judicial districts are combined into nine judicial administrative districts. A district judge is selected as presiding judge by all the district and associate district judges within the judicial administrative district. Subject to the authority of the Supreme Court, the presiding judge has general administrative authority and supervision over all courts within the district.

The District Courts consist of 71 district judges, 77 associate district judges and 60 special — judges. District judges and associate district judges are elected for four-year terms in nonpartisan elections within their judicial districts. If a vacancy occurs in the position of district judge or associate district judge, the Governor appoints a replacement with the assistance of the Judicial Nominating Commission. Special judges are appointed by the district judges of the judicial administrative district.

A District Court Clerk is elected from each county for a four-year term. Once elected, they serve as county officers and are responsible for maintaining all court records.

Court on the Judiciary

The Court on the Judiciary consists of a trial division and an appellate division. The trial division is composed of nine members, eight of whom are district judges, senior in service and under the age of 60, and one active member of the Oklahoma Bar Association, chosen by its Board of Governors. The appellate division is composed of two members of the Supreme Court, chosen by the court; one member of the Court of Criminal Appeals, selected by the court; one active member of the Oklahoma Bar Association, chosen by its Board of Governors; and five district judges senior in service and under the age of 65. Each division of the Court on the Judiciary selects its presiding judge.

Any justice or judge of any court is subject to removal from office or compulsory retirement by proceedings in the Court on the Judiciary. Jurisdiction of the trial division of the Court on the Judiciary may be invoked by a petition filed by the Supreme Court or the Chief Justice, the Governor, the Attorney General, the Executive Director of the Oklahoma Bar Association (upon direction by the Board of Governors), by resolution of the OBA House of Delegates, or by resolution of the House of Representatives of the State of Oklahoma. After a full hearing, the trial division renders its judgment. From any judgment of the trial division, the respondent or the prosecutor may appeal to the appellate division which may affirm, modify, or reverse the judgment.

Judicial Nominating Commission

The Judicial Nominating Commission was created by passage of a Constitutional Amendment in 1967. The amendment provided that vacancies in certain judicial positions are to be filled by appointments by the Governor instead of through election.

When a vacancy in a judicial office occurs, the Nominating Commission is required to accept the applications, review, and submit at least three nominees to the Governor and the Chief Justice. The Governor , within sixty days of receipt of the nominees' names, appoints a person from the list of nominees submitted by the Commission.

The Judicial Nominating Commission consists of thirteen members. Six of the members are appointed by the Governor, and six members elected by the Oklahoma Bar Association. These appointments are selected from the six congressional districts. A thirteenth at-large member is appointed by the Commission.

During the fiscal year, the Nominating Commission screened approximately 188 applicants to fill judicial vacancies in the District Courts and the Workers' Compensation Court. The Administrative Office of the Courts assists the Nominating Commission in its duties.

Foster Care Review Board

Oklahoma has had a system of foster care review boards since 1981. These boards, which currently number fifty-three, review the cases of children who have been adjudicated deprived and placed outside their home. Each board has at least five members and reviews the cases within forty-five days of initial placement, and thereafter at least once every six months. The board's findings and recommendations are made available to the court.

Review boards also engage in other activities to promote permanency planning for children.

Oklahoma also has a State Foster Care Review Advisory Board, which oversees the implementation of the state review system. This eighteen-person board assists in the training of the review boards and functions as an advisory body for the courts and the legislature concerning statutes, court rules and procedures relating to foster care.

Roger Mills County Courthouse History

Prior to settlement in April of 1892, Roger Mills County was a part of the Oklahoma Territory and was included in the Cheyenne/Arapaho Indian Reservation. The area was designated as County "F".

The first courthouse was a tent located on the northwest corner of the courthouse square. The first order of business of the County Commissioners was to construct a building to be used as a courthouse. By July of 1892, the county had constructed a 2-room log building for use as a courthouse.

In November 1892, the voters renamed the county Roger Mills, after a well-known Texas Panhandle Senator. In September of 1893, a jail was constructed on the southeast corner of the courthouse square. The jail was used until 1922.

Due to the increase in population, the need to have all the county offices centrally located and the need for an adequate place in which to hold court, the county awarded a contract for the construction of a two-story, wooden frame courthouse building. The building was completed by January of 1900. In November of 1907, a Sandstone Vault was constructed for the safe-keeping of county records. In September of 1916, the courthouse was set on fire with the intent of destroying the court records; however, all the court records and part of the County Clerk's records were preserved by being locked in the Sandstone Vault. The vault has been preserved and currently remains on its original location at the west entrance of the new courthouse.

During 1917, bonds were sold for the construction of a courthouse and jail. The building was a two-story, concrete and brick building, which was completed by May of 1918, and served as a courthouse until September of 1986. In November of 1922, the jail and living quarters were finished. The jail was used until February 1986.

On November 2, 1982, the voters of Roger Mills County issued a mandate to the County Commissioners to construct, furnish and equip a new courthouse and jail facility on the courthouse square in Roger Mills County. The building was paid for with interest money derived from county investments. In Februdry, 1986, the Sheriff moved into the new jail and office complex. In September of 1986, the other County Officers moved into the new courthouse. In 95 years the Roger Mills Courthouse has come from a small tent to a beautiful building, which is the newest courthouse in the state.

JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

Administrative Office of the Courts

As authorized by the constitution and by statute, the Supreme Court appoints an Administrative Director of the Courts to assist the Chief Justice in exercising his administrative authority within the judicial branch of government. The duties and responsibilities of the Administrative Office of the Courts are grouped into three divisions: financial services, court services and legal services.

• FINANCIAL SERVICES DIVISION •

Fiscal and personnel matters are handled by the Financial Services Division which is responsible for appropriated funding requests, budgets, accounting and payroll support for the Supreme Court, Court of Appeals and District Courts. In performing its accounting function, the Financial Services Division receives and processes all expenditures from appropriated and dedicated funds, reconciles monthly statements of account and provides statewide purchasing for the courts. In its personnel capacity, the Division provides the administrative, accounting and clerical services necessary to maintain a work force of approximately 500 judicial and nonjudicial personnel. This work force includes judges, trial court administrators, court reporters and secretaries for the District Courts, and justices, judges, judicial assistants, clerks, marshals, referees, secretaries and administrative staff for the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals.

• COURT SERVICES DIVISION •

The Court Services Division is composed of a variety of services to the District Courts and the appellate courts. The areas of responsibility of the Court Services Division include data processing (Oklahoma Court Information System), local court fund budget assistance, and procedural reference service for court clerks. The primary objective of the Oklahoma Court Information System is to provide automated case management and tracking to the District Courts and to the appellate courts, in addition to the auxiliary information processing necessary for court operation. Initial plans call for total central information processing of all cases in the 18 counties having the largest caseloads. The balance of the counties will be served in the long-range plan by local micro-processor based units. Currently Oklahoma County, Tulsa County and Comanche County are utilizing the system for all civil cases and two additional counties are projected to be added to the network before the end of Fiscal Year 1989. Criminal case processing software was installed in early FY-87 for use initially in Tulsa and then Oklahoma counties with expansion to other major counties in subsequent periods. In the appellate courts, the Appellate Case Tracking System provides data storage and retrieval capabilities for criminal as well as civil appeals. The Administrative Office of the Courts utilizes the Court Information System to monitor all financial activities and caseload statistics in the District Courts. The system is also used for internal management functions such as payroll, judicial personnel tracking and court reporter licensing and tracking. Electronic jury selection systems were activated in late 1987. A uniform system of jury summoning became effective on November 1, 1988.

• LEGAL SERVICES DIVISION •

Due to the diversity of its duties, the Administrative Office of the Courts has contact with many groups both within and outside the court system. The Legal Services Division interacts with judges, court clerks, court reporters, legislators and the general public.

Supplying legal information to various people in the court system is a primary function of this division. This includes conducting legal research, and monitoring legislation affecting the courts as it progresses through the legislative process.

Through the Legal Services Division, the Administrative Office provides assistance to the Council on Judicial Complaints, the Judicial Nominating Commission, the Oklahoma Judicial Conference, the Assembly of Presiding Judges, the Juvenile Justice Oversight Committee and the State Foster Care Review Advisory Board.

The newest section of the Legal Services Division is the Dispute Resolution System. Begun in November, 1985, this system has a statutory purpose of providing to all citizens of Oklahoma convenient access to fair, effective, inexpensive, and expeditious alternative methods of settling their disputes.

To aid in the accomplishment of this purpose, the System receives, in a revolving fund collected by all court clerks, $2 for every civil case filed in Oklahoma, and $5 from each party using the services of a volunteer mediator in a certified dispute resolution center.

The Administrative Director is charged with the duty of administering and supervising the local dispute resolution programs, encouraging and assisting in their establishment throughout Oklahoma, and with disbursing collected System monies to aid the centers with operational expenses.

Dispute Mediation Services

The Oklahoma Dispute Resolution System, which focuses on mediation services, began in November, 1985. The statutory purpose of the program is to provide, for all citizens of Oklahoma, convenient access to fair, effective, inexpensive and expeditious alternative methods of settling their disputes. Dispute mediation is an informal and effective way, with the aid of a neutral and trained third party, to reach an agreement in a dispute. Participation in the process is voluntary. Referrals to mediation may come from any community source, including court order. Mediation proceedings are confidential and may not be used in any later litigation. Both parties in the dispute participate in reaching an agreement. The mediating neutral party does not render a decision. Instead, he or she functions as a facilitator to encourage communication and creative problem solving in a safe, structured and positive manner. Mediators are trained by one of six state certified dispute mediation trainers, approved by their local program directors, and certified by the Administrative Director of the Courts. There are 298 certified mediators located throughout the state. The types of conflicts that are often mediated are between: neighbors, family members, landlord and tenant, customer and merchant, farmer and creditor, employer and employee, roommates, friends, or victim and offender. To date, there have been fifteen mediation programs certified. Four provide specialized services statewide, and eleven are community programs providing services regionally. It is the duty of the Administrative Director to administer and supervise the System's dispute resolution programs, as well as to encourage and assist in the establishment of new programs throughout Oklahoma, and to disburse collected System monies to aid the local centers with operational expenses. The Director is assisted by staff and a 15 member advisory board.

JUDICIAL FUNDING

Funding For The Courts

FUNDING SOURCES

Funding for the court system is derived from two sources. The primary source of funding is court generated funding from fines, fees and forfeitures. The secondary source of funding is state generated funding derived from taxes.

COURT GENERATED FUNDING

Court generated funding consists of fines, fees, and bond forfeitures collected by the 77 District Court Clerks and the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

At the district court level, revenues received are used for the local operations of the District Courts. These expenditures are for items such as juror and witness costs, supplies, utilities for space occupied by the courts, attorney fees for indigent defense, bailiff and part-time court clerk employees, per diem court reporters, furniture, equipment purchases and equipment rentals. Additional expenditures include payments required by statute to be paid to the Judicial Retirement System, CLEET Fund, Dispute Resolution Fund and the County General Fund.

On a quarterly basis, each District Court Clerk files a report with the Administrative Office of the Courts that lists the local expenses and revenues and submits a deposit to the State Judicial Fund. The fees received by the Clerk of the Supreme Court are deposited directly into the State Judicial Fund. Two other sources of money for the State Judicial Fund are surplus funds transferred from the law libraries and court reporter license fees.

After payment of local court expenses, the balance of the State Judicial Fund is available for legislative appropriation to the District Courts. This appropriation pays the salaries and travel expenses of District Court judges and court reporters. Some direct costs of the Supreme Court are paid from the State Judicial Fund and require no legislative appropriation. These costs are: jury trials where the local court fund is insolvent, costs related to criminal change of venue, attorney fees for indigent defendants charged with first degree murder, expert witness fees, expenses related to the Council on Judicial Complaints, and expenses of the State Board of Examiners of Official Shorthand Reporters.

STATE GENERATED FUNDING

Because court-generated revenues are not sufficient for all expenses of the state court system, some state-generated revenues must be provided through legislative appropriations. The funding trend for the Supreme Court and District Courts for the past five years has been toward increased dependence on court-generated funds.

The primary source of appropriated funding for the Supreme Court has historically been the General Revenue Fund, but with declining revenues the funding has shifted to a mixture of General Revenue and Workers' Compensation Funds. The Supreme Court does not receive funding from the State Judicial Fund except for statutory requirements illustrated on page 50.

The primary source of funding for the District Courts is the State Judicial Fund. Projected receipts to the fund, in excess of anticipated statutory expenditures, are certified by the State Board of Equalization and appropriated to the District Courts. The Judicial Fund is not large enough to completely support the District Courts and additional appropriated funding is required from General Revenue and other funds.

JUDICIAL STATISTICAL SUMMARY

Statewide Statistics for District Courts

Included in this section are tables and graphs summarizing the caseload inventory of the District Courts for Fiscal Year 1988. Civil cases are categorized as general civil, domestic relations, small claims and probate. Criminal cases are either felony or misdemeanor.

These tables and graphs depict statewide totals. The Annual Report Statistical Appendix contains statistical data for each county and District Court judicial district.

Also included is a chart which ranks the District Court judicial districts according to population per authorized judgeships and cases filed per authorized judgeships.

The final chart in this section shows the total statewide cost of legal representation for indigents during the last four fiscal years. Payments are made at the state level from the State Judicial Fund to compensate attorneys who are appointed to represent indigents charged with Murder in the First Degree. At the local level, payments are made from the local court funds to public defender programs and for representation of indigents in criminal trials, criminal appeals and mental health proceedings.

Introduction

District Courts
Statistical Information

The following pages contain the FY-88 caseload statistics for the 26 District Court judicial districts and the counties within each district. Six major categories of cases are reported: general civil, domestic relations, probate, small claims, felony and misdemeanor. For each of these categories, the number of cases filed, disposed of and pending is first presented, followed by a numerical breakdown of the methods of disposition.

Three of the major categories are divided into more specific case classifications with filing and disposition totals provided for each subdivision. Domestic relations cases are broken down into divorce, incoming reciprocal support, outgoing reciprocal support and all others. Felony cases are divided into felony D.U.I. and all others. Misdemeanor cases are categorized as misdemeanor D.U.I., traffic, and non-motor vehicle misdemeanor.

Caution should be exercised in using these statistics as a means of determining judicial workloads. Judges spend a great deal of their time counseling, researching, traveling and performing administrative tasks. Courts in metropolitan areas face heavy and specialized caseloads. In other areas of the state, the distance between the towns in which court is held, and the additional duties involved in working with multiple staffs, are factors which must be considered.

Additionally, due to a variety of circumstances, no two cases are exactly alike although statistically, they are considered equal. Because factors are involved which cannot be shown quantitatively, these factors must be considered when intepreting the statistics.
